Upsets Galore In Echo's Gigantic CHEVROLET Prize Contest

Observations... Here It Is....

By the Editor

Back in our youthful days some of the fastest boats of the Gulf Yachting Association were locally owned and had been built here. Just reminiscing, the Interruption, Interference, the Huzzy, all by the late Uncle Charley Breath, the Lillian R. owned and always sailed by that lovable old sailor George Rudolph, the K. M. A. owned by Deuce O'Reilly and of course there were many others. With the Bay Waveland Yacht Club once again active much interest in good boats is being revived. The Imperial Wood Products Company, owned by the McDonald brothers of Bay St. Louis, have gone into the boat building business, and the fish class boats of the local yacht club and the Diamond Lil, of the International Lightning Class, which sailed its first race last Sunday are specimens of the work of this firm. Some time back we hailed this enterprise as an industry in the making. We think we were probably right. Inquiries and orders are beginning to find their way back to Bay St. Louis, and in time we may have in our midst, locally, owned, an outstanding boat building business, with a national reputation. These are the type businesses we need in Bay St. Louis, built on a solid foundation, with local capital, employing local labor. Again we wish to extend our congratulations to C. C. and John McDonald. Chancery Court is in session this week and following the call of the docket Monday morning one of the first matters to be taken up by the court was the demurrers filed in the slot machine cases. The court overruled the demurrers of the defendants and allowed them 30 days to file their answers. This of course slows down the procedure a bit, and certainly no one would even accuse the boys in the rackets of playing for time, and of trying the old wearing out process... but just a word to them... it may take a little more time to do the job, but it is going to be done, and remember you are dealing with folks who have pretty tough hides and the wearing out process will not apply. Some very interesting data has to how Bay St. Louis is "building" was had this week from Commissioner of Public Utilities Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr. These figures cover the year 1949—57 permits for new homes amounting to $172,000.00; 12 permits for new commercial buildings, $191,850.00; and 33 permits for additions and repairs, $17,016.00, making a total of $380,966.00. We must take into consideration also the number of buildings on the outskirts of the city, which have been constructed, in all our guess is that it would exceed far more than $500,000. Since the first day of January, we think there has been a far larger amount of construction than last year, and it will be interesting to compare the figures at the end of the year. This is a healthy situation, and all that is needed is just a little more "do" with a little less personalities and politics. Bear in mind that the Little Theatre Babesue is being held this Saturday at Ten Oaks Farm, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dupiquier. Tickets are 1.50, for all you can eat, and then there will be an entrance prize, too.

This beautiful new 1950 Chevrolet will be awarded Saturday, July 1, to the contestant having the highest amount of votes.

Can You Help?

If anyone has a picture of the original Bay-Waveland Yacht club built at the head of Sycamore street, please contact the Sea Coast Echo.

Imperial Wood Products Boat Places Second Sunday

One of the most interesting factors of the races at the Yacht Club last Sunday afternoon was the first appearance of the Diamond Lil in competition in the Lightning Class. This boat is owned by the McDonald brothers, C. C. Sr., and John J., and was built in their plant, the Imperial Wood Products of Bay St. Louis. In the race, Sunday, the Diamond Lil placed second by a matter of some few seconds, to Jack Bell, sailing an eastern manufactured boat, with other boats built by firms of national reputation trailing the Diamond Lil.

The McDonald firm of Imperial Wood Products was awarded the contract for and built the 4 fish class boats for the Bay Waveland Yacht Club in addition to the Diamond Lil. They are presently building 5 boats of the penguin type, two of which have already been sold, one to Jaubert Fuch. Two masts of the Lightning Class boats have been manufactured and shipped to Corpus Christi, Texas.

The firm is locally owned and employs home labor, and John McDonald informs us that they are quite elated with the inquiries received from several sections of the country about their boats.

Chancery Court Convenes Mon.

The June term of Chancery Court convened on Monday morning, at 10 o'clock A. M. with the Honorable D. M. Russell, Sr., Chancellor, presiding. In attendance at the court were Deano Jordan, Official Court Reporter, A. C. Mitchell, Clerk and Burton D. Johnson, Sheriff.
The docket was called and immediately following this, demurrers filed by certain defendants to the petitions of Leg W. Seal, for writs of injunction to stay the operations of slot machines in Hancock County, were heard. These particular cases have been on the docket for some time and action had been delayed in the hearing on the demurrers pending a decision from the Supreme Court of Mississippi in four other cases emanating from the Chancery Court of this County.
The court overruled the demurrers in the pending cases and allowed the defendants 30 days in which to file their answers.
The court is still in session engaged in the hearing of divorce cases, and matters affecting land titles.

R.E.A. Appoints Home Economist

Miss Loyette L. Webb of Hattiesburg, Mississippi, has been employed by the Coast Electric Power Association, local R. E. A. cooperative, to serve as Home Electrification advisor.
A native Mississippian, Miss Webb was born in Liberty and attended school at Mississippi Southern. She received her B. S. Degree in Home Economics at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee, and was later awarded her M. A. Degree in Home Economics from Columbia University.
The new advisor has taught in rural schools and has worked with rural people throughout her life. For nine years she was head of the Home Economics department of Mississippi Southern. At that time one third of her time was devoted to the supervision of vocational home economics in high schools of south Mississippi. During World War II, she served as Executive Secretary for the Mississippi Nutrition Committee under the War Goods Administration, and until she joined Coast Electric's staff, she was Field Nutritionist for the Southeastern Area, American Red Cross with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., she held this post for the past four years.

PLANNED FACILITIES
In announcing this important addition to his staff, H. H. Shattuck, manager of Coast Electric, said that he considered the Association "very fortunate in being able to secure the services of Miss Webb and that with the facilities planned in the new headquarters, she would be able to contribute to the satisfactory and economical use of electrical appliances and equipment in the homes of Coast Electric members." The facilities to be available are a completely electrified kitchen and laundry, together with display and demonstration areas.

NOT TO SELL APPLIANCES

"We do not intend to sell electrical appliances," Shattuck stated, "instead we will cooperate fully with the appliance and appliance and electrical equipment dealers throughout the area Coast Electric serves. Miss Webb will work with the dealers, with the extension people, with the schools, in fact, everywhere that it is possible to make the use of electricity earn dividends."

Miss Webb will add much to the ever growing Coast Electric staff as she has had experience in working with rural people and their distinctly different problems, together with the recognition of being an expert in her chosen field of Home Economics.

ALL contestants in both the top and secondary groups are moving forward at a steady pace and it is anybody's guess where, among them, might spring a new leader before another week has elapsed.

SECOND PERIOD IN EFFECT

Now that the first period of this exciting race has passed into history the entire population of this area and elsewhere are watching results of the "second heat" with bated breath. The elimination process—sifting the ambitious ones from among those who apparently lack this element so necessary for success in any endeavor—has all but taken place, and how the real "Go Getters" will fight it out for the truly magnificent prizes soon to be awarded.

TIME

Hurry, hurry, hurry! Tension is mounting as every hour that passes brings hard working contestants in the subscription contest close to prizes, headed by that beautiful 1950 Chevrolet Styleline 4 Door Sedan.

A queen once offered all her worldly possessions for something owned by the poorest subject in her kingdom. Everyone has this valuable substance. It cannot be bought sold or exchanged, yet it is the most precious commodity in the world, and may decide who wins first prize in this now famous Sea Coast Echo Subscription contest.

It is a little thing, but it has changed the tide of battles, toppled kingdoms, altered history.

Queen Elizabeth didn't realize the value of it either, until she was about to be deprived of it forever. Then, her last words were, "All my possessions for a moment of time!"

A moment of time! In slightly over two weeks from today, many contestants, like Queen Elizabeth, will beg for another moment of time. They will have realized after it is over, that every moment of time in the final two weeks of the contest could have been utilized to increase their standing in the contest. The winner will be the person who used these few remaining days to the greatest advantage.

The race is close! The final outcome will be a real test of last minute "hustling". Go After those subscriptions; tap every source you can think of in a close race, the little things count—a few moments wasted, or the difference in a few thousand votes can be a deciding factor.

"Many of us spend half our time wishing for the things we could have if we didn't spend so much time wishing for them." Lots of people have dreamed how nice it would be to call on their friends in a shiny new 1950 Chevrolet. They are the "wishers". But somewhere in this area, there is a person who will make his or her dream come true—who will win the Chevrolet. He or she is the supreme go-getter. The sort of person who realizes the value of time.

"Nothing is longer, since it is the measure of eternity." "Nothing is shorter, since it is insufficient for the accomplishments of your projects." "Nothing is more slow to him that expects; nothing more rapid to him that enjoys."

"All men neglect it; all regret the loss of it; nothing can be done about it."

"Time is man's precious asset."

LAST CALL TO READERS

Friends of contestants, you have, of course, wished your favorite well. You have encouraged him or her in a small way but have you extended your subscription to the "full limit" in helping them realize their highest hopes and ambition?
If not, then get in touch with him or her today—RIGHT NOW while you're thinking about it—and show them in a concrete way that "you are with them and for them" in their quest to make their dreams come true!
The best way to win a friend is to be one!

REDEDICATION

A newspaper is a public service, and as such it should be devoted to the upbuilding of the area it serves. Any accomplishment of purpose, after all, must be the work of the people it serves. It can only bring to your attention some of the many needed improvements which help build a bigger and better Hancock County. The rest lies in your hands.

As we have said on many occasions the people of Hancock County have been very kind to the editor of this paper throughout the many years of his public life, and upon our retirement from public office, we promised in return to strive to better serve our people by building a bigger and better newspaper to help build a bigger and better Hancock County. We have accomplished a part of our promise. We are giving you a bigger and better newspaper, but we have not as yet completely awakened the people of our county to the opportunities ever present in our midst.

To accomplish the latter there must be a perfectly coordinated effort on the part of our business and civic leaders. There must be a free expression of thought and the will to do.

Our editorial expressions are our thoughts—the thoughts of another human who is not infallible. We have attempted to encourage our readers to express their views in letters to the editor. Sound argument on matters affecting the welfare of our section will do much to focus public attention; and in the final, the moulding of public opinion means the accomplishment of purposes.

We have much sound leadership in our county; and, as and when, this leadership will exert itself, and too, realize that civic effort is not politics, we shall be on the road to building a bigger and better Hancock County.

We are indeed gratified and deeply appreciative of the support accorded the Echo throughout the past eight years. We have grown above our expectations, and you have made it possible. In return we again rededicate ourselves to your service, to help bring about a spirit of cooperation, where civic pride will rise above personalities, with all hands joined in a common purpose, the building of a bigger and better Hancock County.

FATHER'S DAY-JUNE 18

Washington Merry-Go-Round

DREW PEARSON

Rich on Relief

TALL, SCHOLARLY congressman J. M. "Judge" Combs of Texas seldom opens his mouth unless he has something to say. He had plenty to say behind closed doors when the ways and means committee voted a big reduction in the capital-gains tax on upper-bracket taxpayers—and it wasn't music to his colleagues' ears. Combs bluntly charged the committee with handing out millions in tax relief to Wall Street stock traders and others who make "quick profits on turnover transactions."

"You are unfairly discriminating against more than 80,000,000 low and moderate taxpayers who derive their income from salaries, wages and ordinary business income," the Texan chided his colleagues. "It has always been my understanding that taxes should be easiest on those least able to bear them, but you are handing out a lot of relief here to people who can best afford taxes."

Combs angrily pointed out that the people the committee had "put on relief" by reducing the capital-gains tax from 25 to 18 per cent were individuals with annual incomes of $15,000 or more and married couples with joint incomes of $30,000 or more.

Rep. Walter Lynch, Democrat of New York, and Robert W. Keane, Republican of New Jersey, were moved down by the Texan when they argued that the capital-gains tax would stimulate investments, and thus business.

"Don't kid yourself that this will stimulate business and encourage sound investment," lashed back Combs. "All it will do is foster a quicker turnover of securities by those who speculate on the stock market."

Note—Congressman Combs is the man who had the courage and perseverance to run against ex-congressman Martin Dies of the un-American activities committee and defeat him.

Ike's Political Party

It is well known that General Eisenhower is the secret choice of certain high-placed Republicans to be the GOP candidate in 1952. Such backers as Tom Watson of international business machines are definitely grooming him.

However, it appears that Eisenhower—who, as a youngster in Abilene, Kansas, registered as a Democrat—has long wanted his political affiliation kept secret.

Neighbors of General Eisenhower tell how he and his wife went to vote in a little tearoom near Columbia university last year. As Mrs. Eisenhower started to register, she was asked if she wanted to sign the usual registration blank enrolling her in one of the political parties. Mrs. Eisenhower started to accept the blank, but the general stopped her.

"Why can't I state my party preference?" Mrs. Eisenhower asked, "since I am voting for one party?"

"I just don't think it is wise," Eisenhower protested. "I wish you wouldn't do it."

Mrs. Eisenhower said she didn't understand.

The general smiled and said: "You will in time."

Frank Senator

It isn't often that a Senator will argue openly against government economy. No matter what he may think personally, he knows that government economy is a big vote-getter. However, big Ed Johnson, Colorado Democrat, solemnly warned the other day against too much economizing at the expense of democratic principles.

"We do not establish governments to save dollars; we establish governments so that the people may govern," Big Ed told his senate colleagues.

"The planners say that if big business was run like government, it would be bankrupt overnight," continued the senator from Colorado.

"Now that is a pretty plausible argument, and every uninformed person the country over swallows it and repeats it. Well-meaning propaganda groups throughout the country play that tune. I concede, in fact, that our government is more wasteful and more inefficient than a streamlined dictatorship, and that its operating efficiency does not look good when placed alongside that of American business organization."

"But is that what we are striving for?" boomed Johnson. "Are we forgetting that we are trying to maintain a democratic system of representative government here in America? All of us, I am sure, would have no hesitation in choosing between a highly efficient administration by a dictator in a totalitarian state."

"The American businessman and the American worker must understand the kind of cake that is hidden under the pretty frosting," Johnson warned.

THE HOME TOWN REPORTER

WALTER SHEAD, WNU Correspondent

Cloud of Doubt

THIS REPORTER has just returned from a trip through the great, prosperous middle-east, the breadbasket and the industrial center of the nation.

And beneath the prosperity, the vigorous planning, the optimism, the heartiness and friendliness of this segment of the nation, there is discernible a faint cloud of doubt, uncertainty and perplexity in the minds of these people.

You ask about it and they cannot put their finger on anything definite. It is something they look upon with a degree of suspicion and distrust, or a lack of understanding.

And here in this great city of Washington, at its most beautiful time of the year, with its stately buildings, its broad, shaded, smooth avenues spreading across the Potomac to the red soil of Virginia and eastward to the rolling Maryland hills, the reason for this feeling on the part of the midwest people is obvious. For there on Capitol Hill, beneath the white dome which dominates the picturesque setting of this metropolis of democracy, there is disunity and distrust; there is hysteria and witch-hunting; there is name-calling and character assassination. They are, in fact, burning down the barn to kill the rats.

Communists Abetted

Months ago and repeatedly since, this column has pointed out the existence of this condition which has caused an evil atmosphere of fear and hysteria, brought to a climax in recent weeks by the charges of Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin concerning Communist infiltration in our state department.

In the hands of most responsible and thinking people here in Washington, this banner have been proven both irresponsible and ill-founded.

But there can be no doubt that because of these cries of "wolf, wolf" the condition of uneasiness noted in the midwest has been fostered in the minds of the people there and everywhere. There also is little doubt that the objectives of the Communist fifth columns, not only in this country, but in every country, have been aided and abetted. For that is the aim of the Moscow plotters of Communist activities, to disunite, to generate confidence, and to create suspicion in democracies and free governments throughout the world. This policy of destroying confidence, of causing unrest among the population has been used to advantage by Communists many times.

George Keenan, counselor of the state department in a recent speech in a midwest city said: "The atmosphere of public life in Washington does not have to deteriorate much further to produce a situation in which very few of our more quiet and sensitive and gifted people will be able to continue in the government. The margin of safety with which our country moves in the world today is not great enough to permit us to be reckless and wasteful with the talents and idealism of those people we depend upon for the generalship of our peacetime battles."

Majority Are Honest

This nation must win this cold war or as an alternative, fight a hot war. This nation must hold and continue to hold the respect, the faith and confidence of not only our allies, but of nations everywhere who are looking to the United States to back communism and totalitarianism wherever it appears. But the suspicion created by what is now called "McCarthyism" both at home and abroad, is not only a deterrent, but making it well-nigh impossible for our representatives to sit around the conference table with other nations of the globe.

So it is time the people of this country make up their minds, either believe as the Kremlin would have us believe and withdraw into a cocoon of isolationism, leaving the rest of the world to the fate of everything we believe in, or once and for all time sweep away these false clouds of suspicion and unite behind our government in its all-out fight to win the cold war and keep the peace.

Of the workers in the federal government, 899 out of 1,000 are honest, loyal, able Americans.

Our FBI, our central intelligence, our department of justice, our military intelligence, know who are Communists and who are not. They are not stupid. They knew during the war the movements of every spy, every saboteur, every Nazi in this country. None got away. But they did not capture them by witch-hunting or yelling sensational charges from the house-tops.

The Other Side of the Curtain At Last Disclosed This Secret

By BILLY ROSE

On an October morning in 1903, in a village not far from La Rochelle in east, France, a young priest paled as he listened to his first confession.

"Yesterday afternoon," he heard the penitent on the other side of the curtain say, "I met a strange girl on the dirt road that runs by the pond. When I tried to make friends with her, she laughed at me, and I got so mad I picked up a stone and hit her to make her stop laughing. She fell down, and when I yelled and she didn't move I got scared and buried her beside some bushes."

Father Antoine recognized the voice as that of a 15-year-old who was known in the village as "the story teller"—a boy who was always talking about his daydreams as if they had actually happened.

A few weeks later, Father Antoine was almost certain the "crime" was a hallucination. For one thing, there had been no report of a missing person in the district and, for another, the boy's descriptions of the murder grew more and more confused.

ONE AFTERNOON he finally admitted to the priest that his story was a fabrication. "I did meet a girl," he said, "and she got me so angry that I wanted to kill her. But I never touched her, and afterwards I got all mixed up about what I wanted to do and what I really did."

"I suspected as much all along," said Father Antoine, "but I must admit I was shocked at first. You see, you were the first person who had ever confessed to me."

Two years later, the boy's family moved to Paris and the priest all but forgot the incident—until a new paved road was laid alongside the old dirt one. Under a bush near the pond was found the decomposed body of a girl, and the coroner testified it had been there about two

Extension Subscriptions Now Count For Big Votes

Extended or second payment subscriptions now count for extra large number of votes in the big "Everybody Wins" prize subscription contest, fast drawing to a close.

For example a subscriber might have paid a yearly subscription during the first part of the contest and now wishes to extend that subscription another four years at the special extension rate of $7.00 now in effect for the primary purpose of boosting his or her favorite contestant to the "full limit."

That extended subscription NOW would not only give YOUR favorite the remaining votes due on an original subscription but if that original subscription were turned in during his or her week, they would also be entitled to double feature special votes as stated in the opening announcement of the contest, plus of course, the 50,000 EXTRA votes given on each and every $18.00 "club."

So, if you—and a couple of dozen other good friends like you—would extend that original subscription to the "full limit", it would mean more than a million and a half votes for that contestant in his or her effort to win that grand capital prize Chevrolet automobile, worth $2157.29, a small fortune indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. Subscriber, this message is addressed to you. Your added "bit" right now might be just the very encouragement needed to help some deserving contestant "go over the top" in a big way.

Then, you too, could enjoy that satisfying "inner glow" that comes from having done your share—at actual saving to you—in making someone very happy, for a long time to come.

Don't turn your back on a friend.

Rev. R. Lee Addresses Rotary

Rev. R. L. Lee, pastor First Baptist church was guest speaker at the Bay St. Louis Rotary club luncheon hour at Hotel Reed Wednesday.

Mr. Lee built his talk on a will left by a marine killed on Iwo Jima in 1945.

REPRODUCTION OF WELL

This was the reproduction of the will; Ben Toland wanted peace between labor and management; He left 40 per cent of his estate for cooperative action in the solution of the problems. Ten per cent to CIO and AFL to promote understanding of the problems of the companies where members work; 20 per cent to the National Association of Manufacturers to promote understanding of the problems of employees.

Ben Toland wanted a sound national government. He wished to leave 30 per cent to the Congress to promote efficient government in the interest of all the people in the country instead of merely the organized pressure groups and to promote a far-sighted foresight policy. This could not be accepted.

Ben Toland believed in education. To his school, St. Paul and Yale, he left 20 per cent and ten per cent respectively.

Ben Toland believed in God. The remaining tenth was bequeathed half to the New York Times Christmas Charity. "The one hundred neediest cases" and half to the Episcopal Church to bring the kingdom of God nearer to earth and the earth nearer to the Kingdom of God.

STANDS FOR DEMOCRACY

Mr. Lee said that his work in Bay St. Louis as a minister was not to preach creed, not to try to divert anyone's Christian belief, but to bring the Kingdom of God nearer the people of Bay St. Louis—nearer than it is. "I am a man who stands for Democracy. I only want to bring men nearer to God."

Mr. Lee expressed himself as "being happy to have the opportunity to meet and know the Rotarians." He closed by saying, "We can all live for the betterment of men."

A. H. Gregory, president, expressed regret at the loss of Ellis Guillory who will not be in Bay St. Louis another year. Mr. Guillory in replying, said that he had enjoyed the fellowship of the Rotarians and regrets that he had not put in the Rotary what he had gotten out of it.

Visiting Rotarians were Dr. Emmet Erwin, New Orleans. Rev. W. L. Allen, Pass Christian, George Law, New Orleans, Fresno, Sherman, McComb, E. G. Harpole.

CAMPS OPEN

Camp St. Stanislaus will open Sunday, June 18, with eighteen counselors, twelve are brothers of the Sacred Heart and six are seminarians from Notre Dame Seminary in New Orleans.

Camp St. Joseph's enrollment has reached its capacity and campers are arriving for the opening session Sunday, June 18. Camp will last five weeks.

County 4-H's Attend Camp At Lake Waukaway June 5-8

Scene of the 4-H Club camp. The fifty foot tower where Art Grove dove into fire, is shown in the distance.

The annual Hancock County 4-H Club Camp was held at Lake Waukaway, 22 miles above Laurel, June 5th-8th with thirty-two boys and girls attending.

For four action packed days, 4-H Club members participated in a well planned recreational and educational program with swimming as the main attraction. The recreation program was so planned that there was at least one sport to suit the taste of every boy and girl. Games such as soft ball, horse shoes, volleyball and water polo were popular.

Upon arriving at the Camp Monday afternoon the cabins were assigned. After each camper had "Squared away" their personal belongings the crowd was divided into two groups; The Tigers with Patsy Favre, Kiln, Mississippi as their leader and the Hornets with Billy Shaw, Sellers Community, as their leader. The remainder of the afternoon was spent resting and swimming. The night program consisted of a short vesper service, game and reels closing with a water polo game.

SEE WATER MILL

Tuesday morning a hike was taken to Bounds Mill, approximately two miles away. The mill proved interesting and fascinating for the 4-H clubbers as most of them had never seen an old time water mill in operation. The mill was built around 1800 and, until approximately 25 years ago, operated with the original wooden 14 foot wheel; however, at that time a new iron wheel replaced the old wooden one.

The mill was operated by a Mrs. Martin who was 77 years old and had lived her entire life there. She told the crowd that the mill was built by her father, Mr. Bounds. Mrs. Martin has the distinction of being one of the few women today who operate a water mill, and she ground corn into corn meal to show the members the operation. She stated that approximately 45,000 gallons of water run through the mill per hour fed entirely by springs. She took the crowd down to see a hydraulic ram sitting near one of the springs which sends water over an 18 foot rise, a distance of 400 feet to her residence.

VISIT "CAVES"

Another hike was taken Wednesday morning, this time to the "Caves", one of Nature's beauty spots in Mississippi. The cave, or what might ordinarily be called gullies, are 50 to 60 feet deep and pretty in their various colored soils. Wednesday afternoon more soft ball and volley games were played and more swimming enjoyed by the campers.

That night the members enjoyed a stunt which none had ever seen before. Art Grove, diving instructor from White Sulphur Springs, dove from a fifty foot tower into fire. Gasoline was poured on the water and lighted.

Thursday morning found the campers making preparations to leave. Immediately after breakfast the bags were partially packed and cabins cleaned before taking the last swim. The crowd left at approximately 11:00 o'clock headed for Hancock County with the memories of one of the most pleasant four days they had ever spent.

The camp was under the supervision of Howard F. Simmons, Hancock County Agricultural Agent, and Miss Madge Allred, Home Demonstration Agent.

Air cadets receive 275 hours flight training the year they get their wings.

Race For Chapman Trophy Held

The inaugural race of the Mississippi Coast Yachting Association—Fish Class Series, for the Chapman Trophy was sailed at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Sunday afternoon, June 11th, and was won by Biloxi Yacht Club with Pass Christian Yacht Club second; Gulfport Yacht Club third and Bay-Waveland Yacht Club fourth.

The winning skipper was Wallace Chapman ably assisted by his crew composed of his son, Cooper "Chips" Chapman and his daughter Robin Chapman.

The Chapman Trophy is a perpetual trophy donated by Henry B. Chapman of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club and Wallace Chapman, man of Biloxi Yacht Club in memory of their father, W. J. Chapman, and their brothers, William W. Chapman and Alfred W. Chapman, who were members of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club in the early 1900's and will be remembered for their participation in many Gulf Yachting Association Club winning the greatest number of points in the series of four races, to be sailed this season. Presides At V.F.W. Encampment PROCLAIMS JUNE REDEDICATION MONTH

Bill Jolly, prominent attorney of Columbus, who is rounding a successful year as Department Commander of the Mississippi Veterans of Foreign Wars, will preside at the 18th Annual Encampment of the overseas group, beginning in Biloxi.

Jolly took over the reins of the state VFW at the encampment held at Vicksburg a year ago. He succeeded Karl Weisenburg, also an attorney, of Pascagoula, who led the organization to second place in the United States on a percentage of membership growth. The present membership is near the 100 percent mark of that record.

The state commander is a native of Leake County and is a graduate of East Central Junior College and the University of Mississippi School of Law. He began law practice in 1948 and was Leake County Prosecuting Attorney when he enlisted in the service in 1941. He served overseas with General Patton's Third Army and was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service against the Germans.

Soon after his discharge, Jolly became a charter member of the

Lowndes County Post No. 4278 of Columbus, where he had become a junior member of the law firm "Sams and Jolly."

He subsequently served two terms as district commander and as department senior vice commander, prior to his elevation to his present position with the VFW. He is married to the former Teran Daly of Philadelphia and has three sons.

Jackson—Governor Fielding L. Wright, along with the majority of other governors in the nation, has issued a proclamation setting aside June as "Rededication Month," calling upon citizens to "rededicate themselves during this month to the principles of freedom we inherited from our Founding Fathers."

In the proclamation, Governor Wright pointed out dangers of the "creeping paralysis of socialism," and stated that foreign ideologies are threatening "our appreciation of merit in strange character, thrift, hard work, unselfish devotion to public welfare and fear of God."

In Mississippi, the "Rededication Month" program is sponsored by the Mississippi Press Association and the Mississippi Economic Council. The two groups are calling upon all civic clubs to hold some type of program on the "American Way of Life" during the month, and all churches are asked to hold a service on June 25, based on the scripture, pointing out some of the treats being made on freedom of religion by leftist and communist ideologies.

The Mississippi program ties in with the program sponsored nationally by the National Editorial Associations, which will stage a pilgrimage on June 25 to Plymouth Rock, Mass., during its annual convention.

The text of Governor Wright's proclamation follows:

Whereas, the imprint of war distress upon the world leaves people everywhere disturbed and unsure of spiritual and moral values, and

Whereas, a condition of poverty in many lands slowly grinds freedom under the creeping paralysis of socialism, and

Whereas, theories foreign to the American Way of Life cast false light upon the virtue of character based upon self-respect earned by toil, and

Whereas, those theories threaten to deaden our appreciation of merit in strong character, thrift, hard work, unselfish devotion to public welfare and fear of God, and

Whereas, these American traits were the foundation stones upon which our great country was built, and

Whereas, the press of America, through the National Editorial Association, will make a pilgrimage to Plymouth Rock during its meeting in June, 1950, for the purpose of re-living those inspiring events which played an important part in the early life of our country, and re-affirming their faith in the ideals of liberty and justice upon which this Nation was founded.

Now, Therefore Be It Resolved by the Governors of the forty-eight United States, that we do here and now proclaim June, 1950 as "Rededication Month" in each of our respective States, and respectfully urge all citizens to rededicate themselves during this month to the principles of freedom we inherited from our Founding Fathers.

In Testimony Whereof we have hereunto fixed our signatures.

State of Mississippi

Governor.

4-H Forestry Projects Install Officers Enrollments Increase of Garden Club

State College, Miss.—The enrollment in 4-H Forestry projects in Mississippi has shown an increase of 17 percent over the past year, with 68 of the counties carrying out projects sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service, it was announced today by J. S. Terrell, Extension forester.

"Forestry club work has come from a place of relative obscurity to this prominent and growing position in only a few years," Mr. Terrell said. "This year forestry ranks eighth in the 32 different 4-H Club projects in participation."

PRACTICAL AND PROFITABLE—Forestry is practical and profitable. We have the know-how to do it and the markets to use it. Its one of the few crops which does not require price support and subsidy to pay off. Yields can be tripled or quadrupled over what they are now.

ENROLLMENT INCREASES—In 1949 the total 4-H enrollment in forestry projects was 1,381 as compared with 1,615 this year, an increase of 17 percent. There was an increase of 38 percent in negro project and a 10 percent increase in white projects.

"It further encouraging to note that 68 of the 82 counties have enrollments in forestry projects, with seven of the 14 non-participating counties being in the Delta where other projects take precedence."

"Forestry is the greatest single factor in soil, water and wildlife conservation. It occupies more land area, supports more commercial industries, returns greater per hour labor income and percent return on investment with less risk than any other farm crop."

"Big Push" Helps Disabled Veterans

World War Veterans have reason to be interested in another "big push"—the state-wide drive on the part of all service officers to aid all eligible veterans who are permanently and totally disabled and unable to earn a living.

Working with service officers of the counties as well as all county welfare officers, the State Veterans Affairs Commission has prepared and distributed a comprehensive bulletin on this type of benefit to living disabled veterans. As to veterans who are eligible, it states "A veteran of World War I or II, released from service under conditions other than dishonorable, determined by the Veterans Administration to have one or more non-service-connected disabilities, which permanently and totally prevent him from earning a livelihood, may be awarded a pension of $100 monthly, provided his income is not over $1,000 annually if single or $2,500 annually if he has a wife or dependent child."

Age of the veteran is an important factor in qualifying, and requirements are relaxed materially at ages 55, 60 and 65.

Disabled veterans who think they may be eligible for this benefit should visit their County Service Officer, Post Service Officer, County Welfare Officer immediately, or write to the State Veterans Affairs Commission, Jackson, Mississippi.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

TAKESOIL SAMPLESNOW

By Howard F. Simmons

SOIL SAMPLING

Soil samples should be taken now on areas for pasture and other fall crops.

If samples reach the laboratory at State College soon, recommendations will be made in plenty of time to plan fall lime and fertilizer needs; this is a free service to farmers in Mississippi.

See the county agent for instructions about soil sampling and containers in which to mail the samples.

IMPORTANCE OF GARDENING

With farmers facing reduced incomes, home gardens should take first place in the economy of every farm family in Mississippi.

Avoid slighting the home garden by spending too much time in the fields. If properly managed, the garden will return the highest income per acre, and per hour of labor, of any other acre on the farm.

When selling farm products on the wholesale markets, farmers receive on the average less than half of what the consumer pays on the retail market. So a good home garden cuts the vegetable bill in half.

It may be old advice, but when expenses must be reduced a good way is to raise most of the fruits and vegetables consumed by the family.

SUMMER DAIRY

MANAGEMENT

Many dairymen have planted sweet sudan or other grazing crops to maintain production in late summer and early fall. Remember that nitrates are essential to sugar and milk.

Water is another essential in keeping up heavy production in hot summer weather. Fresh, cool water will reduce the body heat of a row on dry, hot days; excessive body heat limits feed intake from which milk is produced.

Research has found that a heavy producing cow in cooler weather may take around pounds of water for each pound of milk she produces. But when the temperature approaches 100 degrees Fahrenheit, she may drink around 26 pounds of water to one pound of milk produced.

Be sure the water is both cool and clean. Stagnant pond water is not fit for dairy cows to drink. Efficient feeding next winter must be provided for now. Each day of delay reduces the possibility of heavier yields.

Some hay crops and crops for filling silos may still be planted. Flies greatly lower dairy production in Mississippi every year. See the county agent about the proper use of chemicals which go a long way toward complete fly control.

But chemicals alone cannot do the whole job, as breeding places of flies must be cleaned up.

Wet decaying straw or other vegetable matter should be spread on the fields and plowed under. General sanitation and good drainage around the dairy farm is important.

Chemical Controls
Wild Onions At
Experiment Station

State College, Miss.—Wild onion has been controlled with maleic hydrazide in a field test at the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station, State College, Mississippi. The chemical is new in the field of herbicides but has promise of becoming very useful, although its possible effect on grazing animals has not been fully determined.

Plots laid out on an area heavily infested with small, young wild onions were sprayed with a water soluble diethanolamine salt containing 30% maleic hydrazide last November. The rates of spray were one and four gallons per acre, dissolved in 20 gallons of water and a sticker was added to the solution.

The wild onions stopped growing immediately and developed brown spots on the leaves. The plants began to turn yellow in March and died in April. Early in May, areas one foot square were dug up and examined for wild onion bulbs. In an unsprayed area, maintained for comparison, there were 475 bulbs per square foot. In the area sprayed with one gallon of maleic hydrazide per acre there were 10 bulbs per square foot. At a four-gallon rate only one bulb per square foot remained. Grasses were injured but not killed by the chemical. On May 4, the plots were completely covered with grasses and weeds, but no onions were growing in the area.

From the results of this test, it appears that wild onions can be controlled by the use of maleic hydrazide applied in the fall when onions are small and susceptible," according to Vernon C. Harris, U. S. Department of Agriculture investigator in the field of weed control. Dr. O. A. Leonard worked with Mr. Harris on the project. Maleic hydrazide is not yet available commercially. A sale price has not been established but as large-scale uses develop a reasonable cost figure appears probable. Preliminary tests have been made of the poisonous effects of the chemical on mice, but the minimum lethal dosage for other animals has not been determined. However the test on mice indicates that cattle would not be poisoned by grazing on the sprayed area, Mr. Harris said.

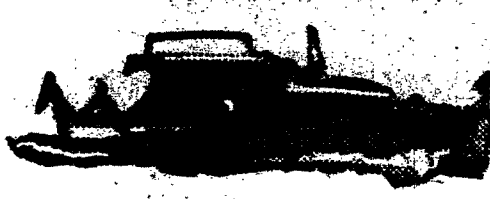

as well as helping to "Plant Mississippi to Help Plant America."

JUNE DAIRY MONTH
While milk production is at its annual peak in June, observe National Dairy Month by using extra amounts of dairy products for food nutrients.

Dairy products are rich sources of calcium for good bones and teeth, riboflavin, phosphorus, vitamin A, some vitamin D, thiamine, fat and sugar. Milk and its products provide high quality protein for building and repair of body tissues.

Nutritionists recommend 2½ to 3 eight-ounce glasses of milk a day for adults. Expectant mothers need 4 glasses and nursing mothers 6 glasses. A child should drink 3 to 4 glasses a day.

WHAT HAPPENS
AFTER DEATH?

In a few score years, all who read these lines will have vanished from the face of the earth.

Every day, almost a hundred thousand human beings finish their earthly span and pass off into the vast beyond. That our turn will come we all know, but when and where and how we cannot be sure.

No merely human being ever has been able to look into eternity and tell us what it is like. No scientific knowledge or scientific instruments can pierce the curtain that divides this world from that into which all of us must eventually journey.

All we know about God's eternal plans for us... all we know about what lies beyond the grave... comes from the God Who made us and to the extent He has seen fit to reveal it to us.

But we can face eternity without fear. For we do have a definite answer to the mystery of death. With the facts God has put at our disposal through the inspired books of the Old and the New Testaments, the Catholic Church always has given, and gives today, a definite answer to the tremendously important questions raised by the fact of death.

Man's life in this world, the Church tells us, is a preparation for the world to come... a testing-time which ends with our death. What happens after that depends on whether death finds us loyal to God, or opposed to Him and the way He expects us to live. "... it is appointed unto men once to die and after this the judgment" (Heb. IX:27).

Christ gave us (Matt. XXV) a description of God's judgment which leaves no room for doubt that our worthiness of everlasting reward will be judged solely according to the way we have lived our lives on this earth.

Death does not bring merely a long, unconscious slumber, but rather a quick awakening to the irrevocable judgment of our Creator. Nor does it bring us a second chance to prove ourselves or to amend our erring ways. In our own hands rests the opportunity... and upon our own heads the responsibility... to determine if death shall be the threshold to everlasting life among the blessed, or among the lost.

Men blessed by youth and good health often feel that death for them is far away—something to be worried about only in the twilight years. Some scoff at the suggestion that an everlasting hell could be permitted by a merciful God. Others seem to think that God will treat them kindly if they live reasonably moral lives, even though they pay Him no special honor which is His due.

But whatever they think... however they avoid the question... all men must eventually face the fact of death. To think about it wisely... and in time... is the most important thing in our lives. If you would like more information on this subject... on Heaven, Hell, Purgatory, the end of the world and the resurrection and judgment of all men... we shall be happy to send you an interesting pamphlet, free of charge. Prepare For Lasting Impression On Visitors

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

When the National Home Demonstration Council, Homemakers' Guild and Country Women's Council meet in Biloxi, October 16-19, the State Home Demonstration Council, and other Mississippians, will be entertaining visitors from all sections of the United States. It is fitting and proper that we prepare our yards and grounds to create a good impression on these visitors.

Present plans are to have a sign displayed in the yard of each home demonstration club member to inform the stranger that she is among friends. Certainly the yard should be worthy of the sign!

Nothing is more appropriate for autumn than chrysanthemums. They are among the showiest of our flowers and will give an array of blooms for several weeks. If you plant them this summer, they will be a mass of color in your yard during October.

Many varieties in many shades and tints of red, yellow, lavender, and white are found in the "mum" group. They give the yard a bright splash of color which last for several weeks.

No flower is better adapted for bouquets and arrangements in the fall of the year, and don't overlook the possibilities in combining the blooms with the brilliant autumn foliage of our trees.

Some of the pom-pom varieties in yellow which will succeed in Mississippi are Yellow Irene and Rouell Improved which are a light lemon yellow. Golden Chord which is true yellow shade and Sunnyside which has a two-toned yellow coloring.

Among the whites are Silver Ball which is a medium-sized Anemone-type, and Snow which is an ivory white, medium-sized pom-pom.

Butterscotch is the name of a good pom-pom variety which is about the color of its name. Orchid Beauty, Thyra, Carolyn Yock and Minstrel are good varieties of the lavender-toned pom-pom mums.

Among the varieties which are red, Holiday has wide petals and is single-flowering. Bourbon, a rust bronze color, and Festival, a heavy-flowering single red, are also to be recommended.

Chrysanthemums can form the major section of your autumn flower garden. Since they are perennial plants, you can look forward to having a multiplication in the plants you set this year.

Few plants will give as good a show for a low price as mums. They should be included in the program to have a yard full of flowers for our October visitors.

—Miss Pearl Reneaus of New Orleans visited her sister, Mrs. John Osinach, and family.

—Leland J. Henderson, owner of Henderson Point property, was about to close a contract with the Home Dredging Company of Mobile, Ala., for the dredging of a basin in the rear of the point, enabling summer residents to harbor their pleasure vessels, and fill in where the land was inclined to be low.

—Mrs. Jessie E. Enoch, principal of the North Gulfport school, left for her home in Central Mississippi following a visit of several days at the home of her friend, Miss May Edwards.

—For the first time, the new alumni hall at St. Stanislaus college was being used. The commencement exercises of the Class of 1908 were held there.

—Robert Lawrence Genin, local resident manager of the Cumberland Telephone Company filed his resignation as their representative, to take effect the last part of May, 1908. He moved to New Orleans where he engaged in the automobile business as an associate of the Independent Company.

—Material by the barge loads for the new brick building of St. Joseph Academy and the Church of our Lady of the Gulf was arriving; work on the construction, which was to amount to $40,000 and over, was to begin immediately.

—Miss Mathilde Olivari, in company with Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Blaize of Pass Christian, left for a trip to Niagara Falls and New York.

—Charles Breath, Jr., narrowly escaped serious injury while out driving with members of his family. While passing the church and convent buildings, the horse shied at the sound of a steam engine working a derrick and the jerk to the vehicle threw the boy forward into the street. He was taken to Evan's drug store where, after an examination, it was found that no bones were broken and no internal injuries had been sustained.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. O'Connor returned from their bridal trip to California, after a visit of six weeks or more to the "Golden West"; they spent much of their time at Los Angeles and vicinity. —Little Miss Fifi Hausmer entertained the friends in her neighborhood at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Ladner, on the occasion of her eighth birthday.

—Rev. Father Sorin was pushing the sale of music for a Mass he had written in honor of St. Patrick. The time he visited in Bay St. Louis, he was writing a composition called the Angelus vocal solo, inspired and suggested after looking at the picture of Miller's famous painting by that name.

Army Places Recruits In Positions With Future

The U. S. Army and Army Air Force have developed a carefully planned system for placing young men and women where they will be of the greatest value to the Service and will also have the best chance for their own advancement, it was announced this week by Sgt. B. B. Moore, recruiter for this area.

WORKING SYSTEM

According to Sgt. Moore, this is how the system works. During a month of basic training, the open opportunities and job responsibilities of all the various assignments open to them will be thoroughly explained so that they may decide which career field interests them most and offers the opportunities to do their best work. They are given several tests, known as "classification tests," to determine the type of duty for which they are best suited. Their Career field classification and initial assignment to on-the-job training, or to technical training in a Service school, will then be determined on the basis of (1) their "natural aptitude," as indicated by the results of their classification tests; (2) their civilian occupational experience; (3) their physical qualifications and (4) their own interests and desires.

PROVIDE OPPORTUNITIES
The first assignment to duty in a particular job is, by no means, the final goal. Army and Air Force Careers are designed to provide every opportunity to qualified men to progress to the next higher grade as rapidly as they acquire the necessary knowledge and ability to perform the job of the higher level.

VISITS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lacoste and children were visitors to Mrs. Lacoste's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Weston, this weekend.

ENTERTAINS ON BOAT

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Breath entertained a small group aboard their boat Friday afternoon for a ride and supper complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Guillory. Other guests were Miss Marion Hodges and Pedie de Blanc of New Orleans, Miss Alicia Rollins and John Ellis of Pass Christian, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Murphy, Bay St. Louis.

Wilmer Mizell Becomes Minors' Man Of Year

Biloxi, Miss.—Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell, whom many are tagging as the Dizzy Dean of the 1950s, became the man of the year of the minors last year while playing with Albany, Georgia. Mizell is the man to replace Dizzy Dean as the most colorful man in baseball, if there is to be a replacement for Dean.

SIGNS CONTRACT

Wilmer was signed to a St. Louis Cardinal contract after he had been seen working out at a Red Bird try-out camp here in Biloxi two years ago. Upon arrival at Albany, Georgia of the Class D Georgia-Florida League last spring, he was handed two uniforms, a gray one for the road, and a white one for home, but he would use only the gray one because he liked it better. He also claims he is not from Vinegar Bend, Ala., at all, as the papers report, but he lives in Mississippi and walks across the state line for his mail every day.

RUNS UP RECORD

Although that "pile of dirt" confused the 190-pound southpaw, causing him to throw two pitches over the backstop and nearly bean three batters in his first game, Mizell ran up quite a record for himself last year, winning 12 games, while losing only three. He also fanned 175 batters, and had an impressive earned run average of 1.98.

All players who reported to the try-out had an equal opportunity to follow in the footsteps of Mizell. Scouts George H. Sisler, Jr., and Buddy Lewis were in charge of the workouts which got under way Thursday, June 15 and which will end today.

VISITS GRANDPARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis had with them over the weekend their grandson, Ronnie Folse, of New Orleans and his cousin, Joe Folse, III, who has been living with his parents in Japan for several years.

Dr. H. M. Cole Authors "The Lorraine Campaign"

From a mountain of combat records weighing over 17,000 tons, Dr. Hugh M. Cole, wartime historian of the Third Army, and former professor of Military History at Chicago University, has authored "The Lorraine Campaign," a narrative record of the combat operations of General Patton's Third Army in the 1944 drive to the Siegfried Line.

ONE IN SERIES

This volume is just one in a series of 90-odd to be published to provide the Army with an accurate official account of its vast and varied wartime activities. The publications will also promote esprit de corps among Arm units and individuals, offer the American public accurate interesting material for better understanding of the basic problems of war and national security, and will be a memorial to those who served.

The public will be allowed to buy the books from the Government Printing Office. Purchase price and publication date will be announced during June. First editions are now on the presses and should be available to the public by July.

SPEND WEEK HERE

Mrs. Edgar Pointet and daughters are spending a week at their summer home on St. Charles street.

Supreme Court vs. Congress

Early during the Roosevelt Administration, President Roosevelt called upon the Congress for legislation which would permit the enlargement of the U. S. Supreme Court, thereby giving him additional appointments to that august body. The President's objective, of course, was recognized for what it was, namely, an opportunity to change the complexion and philosophy of the Supreme Court by the infusion of new and more liberal blood into that body. There was much propaganda put out by the then braintrusts of that Administration about the "Nine Old Men" who constituted the court. This was to the effect that Chief Justice Hughes and the other Justices were old fogies, too conservative, belonging to the horse and buggy days, et cetera. Since the Supreme Court is, under our system of government, the final arbiter, with the last word on the construction of the Constitution of the Republic, there was a general uprising against the President's proposal. The Congress, which is usually, if not always, amenable to the will of the people, after a prolonged and hot fight, refused the President this opportunity to "reform" the U. S. Supreme Court. However, Providence gave the President the power which Congress had denied him. There were a number of resignations and deaths among the "Nine Old Men", which resulted in the appointment by both President Roosevelt and Truman of a majority of the court with so-called Liberals. And thus today the personnel of the U. S. Court is made up of men of the Liberal stripe, and the decisions of that court reflect the Progresssive will of a Liberal Administration.

CHICKENS HOME TO ROOST

Therefore, the far-reaching decisions of the court on last Monday should come as no surprise. On that day, referred to by Congressman Gossett of Texas as "Black Monday", the court held: That a Texas Negro was entitled to attend the University of Texas; that a University of Oklahoma Negro, who had already been admitted, but objected to segregation in the class rooms, dining rooms, and dormitories, must be treated like white students; and, in a third case, ruled that a Negro is not required to wait for a place set aside in one end of the railway dining car for him, and that the Negro is entitled to a seat in any part of the dining car that is available.

In a fourth case the court held that the Federal Government was entitled to the oils and minerals lying under the waters adjoining states and that the states of Texas and Louisiana had no rights there-to-another blow at state sovereignty.

EFFECTS OF THE DECISION

Space will not permit a detailed analysis of the implications of these far-reaching and most important court decisions. On the

J. Lewis Henderson

Assumes Denver Editorship

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lewis Henderson and their three children, Alan, Judy and Linda, will leave for Denver, Colorado, July 1, where Mr. Henderson has accepted a position as editor of National Union Farmer, official organ of National Farmers' Union, one of three organizations with a half million farm members.

The Hendersons moved to Bay St. Louis in March, 1946 from Little Rock, Arkansas, where Mr. Henderson was Regional Information Agent for the Farm Security Administration.

This is not Mr. Hender's first venture in the newspaper field; he published weekly newspapers at Forest and Starkville, Mississippi, where he served terms as president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce before coming to Bay St. Louis. He was secretary of the Forest Rotary Club.

During his period as editor, the Scott County Times, Forest, received the top award of the Mississippi Press Association for outstanding service to the community.

While in Bay-St. Louis for the last four years, Mr. Henderson has been engaged in the sale of government surplus, with warehouses in Bay St. Louis and a store in Gulfport.

racial question, it should be pointed out that, while the court side-stepped the issue presented by the Solicitor General, Mr. Perlman, and the Negro litigants, that an end should be brought to all forms of segregation, the court would imply that that was the effort of its decisions. If any inference on this is to be drawn from the court's decisions, it is that it is just a question of time when the court will hold that segregation in any form must be abandoned by public institutions. It certainly means, for instance, that any Negro with scholastic qualifications who applies for admission to the University of Mississippi is entitled to such admission. It means that segregation laws in the various states, particularly in the South, are constantly subject to be invalidated by the U. S. Supreme Court. It means that there will be an ever increasing intermingling of Negroes and whites in public places. It is the forerunner of a final decision by that court, at a not distant date, denying segregation in all public institutions, both State and Federal. On the other hand, the Texas and Oklahoma oil decisions can only mean the further concentration of power in the Federal Government at the expense of the sovereignty of the states of the Union.

But, more than that, it means that the will of the people, as expressed through its duly elected Representatives in the Congress, can and will be thwarted by a handful of men appointed by a President to the Supreme Court.

Miss. Farm Bureau Plans Series of Meets

State College, Miss.—Leading off with Congressman Albert Gore, of Carthage, Tenn., discussing the national legislative farm situation in relation to the Brannon plan, and with a proposed revision of its constitution, the Mississippi Farm Bureau will hold a series of state-wide meetings, it was announced here today by farm leaders.

Congressman Gore, a member of the national appropriations committee, will lead off the discussion at the first meeting to be held at Mississippi State College in the YMCA auditorium at 1 p. m. on July 20. He will be introduced by Dr. Fred T. Mitchell, president of Miss. State College.

Other meetings will be held at Greenwood on June 21; at the Laurel Civic Center on June 22, and at the City Hall in Brookhaven on June 23.

O. R. Long, Washington, D. C., organizational director of the National Farm Bureau, will speak at the last two meetings.

Important topics to be considered at each meeting will be a report from the special committee headed by Owen Cooper, regarding a proposed revision of the Farm Bureau's constitution, and a discussion on reducing the price of membership dues.

The area meetings are a forerunner to the state-wide meeting on July 20 to be held in Jackson at which time a new president will be elected to succeed the late Ransom Aldrich. John Taylor, Sunflower County, is acting president.
